If you have gone through a high conflict divorce and lost time and a relationship with your children, YOU ARE NOT ALONE.

What I am about to share with you is the one thing you need to transform your relationship with your children and restore the loving bond you once had.

If you have been dealing with a High Conflict Ex that has been doing everything in their power to turn your children against you then this may very well be the most important letter you ever read.

You see I know exactly how you feel. I have been there not only as a parent, but also as a child. I too went through alienation growing up.

I Love You Both, includes easy to implement strategies that you can use right away.

- Are you sick and tired of dealing with your difficult ex who seems to throw a boulder in your road every time you try to spend time with your kids?
- Are you interested in learning how to get past the pain and the heartache you feel from losing time your children?

- Are you feeling the devastation of divorce and saying to yourself, ” what happened to my children, who once loved me and spent time with me and now hardly acknowledge my existence?
- Do your friends and people in your community treat you differently since your divorce?
- Do people wonder what YOU did to make your children hate you? The old adage “where there is smoke there is fire.”
- Have you tried to explain to your friends and family that you have not done anything to deserve being treated like a stranger by your children and feel like nobody really understand and they are judging you?
- Do you feel the gut wrenching pain when people ask about your children, and you really don’t have the answers since your ex makes it impossible for you to spend time with your kids?
- Have you tried to explain to therapists, your attorney and family court judges what is happening only to be met with more hoops to have to jump through to prove why you should have the “right” to spend time with your children?
- Have you heard these words, “don’t worry, they will come around some day. Just back off and be patient”?

If all of the above sounds familiar and you are ready to start reconnecting with your children then...
